Six Hundred Strong, National Guard of Arizona Goes into Camp Tonight for Two Weeks' Study of Military Efficiency

LOCAL COMPANIES ARE AT THEIR BEST

In Numbers and Equipment Phoenix Organizations Make Fine Showing — Flagstaff Company Arrives This Morning

Laying aside for the time their several occupations, six hundred members of the National Guard of Arizona leave today for the annual encampment at Garden Canyon, where for two weeks they will study military efficiency in all its phases. The First Regiment band, Companies A, B and F of Phoenix and Company I of Flagstaff will leave the city on a special train this morning at nine o'clock, and will be joine ber of British Parliament at Tempe by Companies C and D Says Climate Here Did from the south side. They will arrive at Fort Haachuca late in the Him More Good Than afternoon, and at Garden Canyon tids evening.

Larger and better equipped than at any time in history, the companies from Phoenix, with the band, number close to 220 men. Company A, which will take approximately men to camp this year, is in better shape than ever before. Comany B. in command of Captain H. Coykendall, numbers 50 men, while Company F, the Indian company, musters 65. Thirty-eight members of the band reported for the farewell concert last night, and will have to be some rapid work on the part of the detail that will transfer the stuff from one train to the other. A large number of men have been appointed for this work, and arrangements had been made last night to move all the equipment on trucks, so that if the Santa Fe train from the north is on time the special will probably pull out at the hour scheduled.

The Phoenix companies and the band will line up at the armory shortly after 8 o'clock this morning and promptly at 8:30 will march south on First street to the Arizotta. Eastern tracks, where they will beard the train. There will be no parade through the business district as was at first announced. The men will have a five-mile march to camp later in the day, and that, with the work at Garden Canyon, is expected to furnish sufficient exerdisc for the first day.

The Prescott detachment, conristing of eighteen men, has been in the city since Friday night. The Prescottians have been added to ompany B

Drill work, trench digging, sham battles, camp sanitation and a dozen other angles of military life will be included in the course at Garden Canyon. The men will have a busy two weeks and at the same time a fine outing. Captain Cromwell Stacy, inspector-instructor, N. G. A. and two other federal officers will attend the encampment, and give the men plenty to do each dust
